

Eder Tadeu Gomes Cavaleiro

Degree and Bachelor in Chemistry (1983), Master in Chemistry (Analytical Chemistry, 1987) and Doctor of Science (Analytical Chemistry, 1995) all at the University of São Paulo, Postdoctoral fellow at the University of Florida (Gainesville-USA, 1997-1998) and Full Professor at IQSC/USP (2004). Professor at the Department of Chemistry at the Federal University of São Carlos (1994-2002). He is currently Full Professor at the Institute of Chemistry of São Carlos, University of São Paulo, since 2002.

He is interested in research in Chemistry, especially substances with importance in the areas of food, pharmacy, biology and the environment, working mainly in thermal analysis, development of electrode materials and electroanalytical methods aimed at studies on these substances, in addition to contributions to chemistry teaching.

Have published approximately 220 papers in journals with c.a. 4000 citations and advised 31 Master dissertations, 21 Doctoral theses and advised 11 Post-doctoral internships. He was Secretary (2000-2002) and Vice-President (2004-2006) of the Brazilian Association of Thermal Analysis and Calorimetry (ABRATEC) and Secretary of the International Confederation on Thermal Analysis and Calorimetry (ICTAC, 2006-2012), Member of the Advisory Committee of ICTAC (since 2012), President of the Graduate Commission of IQSC/USP (2006-2012) and (2022-current), Head of the Department of Chemistry and Molecular Physics (2013-2014 and 2018-2020), Deputy Director of the IQSC/USP (2014-2018).