

Dr. Leeyih Wang

Leeyih Wang received his B.S. degree in chemistry from National Chung-Hsing University in 1982 and PhD degree from University of Minnesota under the supervision of Prof. Wilmer Miller in 1993. Then, he joined the Center for Condensed Matter Sciences (CCMS), National Taiwan University and currently serves as deputy director of CCMS. He has held a joint appointment in the Institute of Polymer Science and Engineering since 2002. Dr. Wang has been awarded for the Best Paper of the Year in 1997 & 2008, ROC Polymer Society and five times of the NSC Research Awards. His research interests include design and synthesis of conjugated molecules, fullerene derivatives and low bandgap polymers and their optoelectronic applications. He has published more than 120 papers in renowned international journals and own 20 international patents.
